

Centre of African Studies is located close to Rundetårn in the heart of Copenhagen. We have an international study environment and more than 20 years of experience in an interdisciplinary approach to African issues.

www.teol.ku.dk/cas

TILVALG in African Studies

TILVALG in African Studies

African Studies provides TILVALGSSTUDERENDE from the Faculty of Humanities an opportunity to gain insight into Africa's social, developmental, cultural and religious conditions, and also offers the opportunity to learn the African language Kiswahili. The programme is in English and the study environment is international.

As TILVALGSSTUDERENDE you can choose from the Centre of African Studies' range of optional courses, as well as Kiswahili and summer courses – but you cannot sign up for compulsory courses or internship and fieldwork. All optional courses correspond to 10 or 15 ETCS, and you choose yourself if you sign up for the exam corresponding to 10 or 15 ECTS. Kiswahili, which lasts two semesters, corresponds to 15 ECTS. Our summer courses are held in July or August for three or four weeks and correspond to 10 ECTS.

Courses

- Conflicts in Africa
- The Social Context of HIV/AIDS in Africa
- Human Rights in Africa
- NGO's, Civil Society and Development in Africa
- Evaluation of Development Assistance
- Helping Africa
- The Writing Lab
- An African Political Culture
- Governance in Africa
- Engaging with Communities
- Kiswahili

Summer course

- Genocides in Africa

The courses offered may vary from semester to semester. Please refer to www.teol.ku.dk/cas/studentinformation/courses or TILVALGSAVISEN on www.sis.ku.dk for course information.

Registration

Registration for TILVALG in African Studies takes place at the Faculty of Humanities.

Study facilities

The library is equipped with a wireless network and features newly installed study points for laptops. Access codes for the study facilities are available at the reception. The library contains over 10,000 books and approximately 60 periodicals. The main emphasis in the library's collection is on the social-science and humanities disciplines. TILVALGSSTUDERENDE are allowed to borrow books and take them home.

For most courses, syllabus-specific course readers are available for approximately DKK 300–400. However, some courses use basic textbooks that are available in non-specialist bookshops. Information on book and course reader purchase is given on the homepage www.teol.ku.dk/cas/studentinformation.

Africa seminars and networks

CAS hosts interdisciplinary Africa seminars on topical subjects, often with visiting lecturers from abroad. Participation is free and open to all. Please refer to CAS notice boards or www.teol.ku.dk/cas for details.

CAS Student News sends out regularly notices about internship positions, student jobs, scholarships and cultural events in relation to Africa. Subscribe on www.teol.ku.dk/cas

CAS eNews disseminates information about Africa seminars, conferences, workshops and similar events at the University and other research institutions in Greater Copenhagen. Subscribe on www.teol.ku.dk/cas

Further information

Contact CAS student advisers:

- Email: studievejledningcas@teol.ku.dk
- T: 3532 4598
- www.teol.ku.dk/cas/studentinformation/studentcounselling